What is FSR?

Financial Stewardship Resources, Inc. (FSR) is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that educates and empowers nonprofit board members in sound financial, administrative and organizational stewardship.

Often small or medium sized organizations lack resources to provide staff training on critically important topics. Since time and money are scarce, staff members instead focus on the provision of services and related fund-raising.

Financial Stewardship Resources provides affordable training on important topics in a timely fashion. FSR instructors are specialists in their fields and can help staff to become effective stewards of limited financial, administrative and organizational resources

FSR training prepares staff to make good decisions on the complex issues facing organizations during these difficult times.

Writing A Child Safety Policy That Matters

This workshop will cover the nuts and bolts of writing a child safety policy. You will be provided explanations for each policy element, ample policy suggestions and many stories that illustrate how to reduce the risk of child abuse in your organization.

Participants will also be given an opportunity to write sample policies for their organization.

Join us for an interesting and important training. You'll learn the following:

- Basics of a child safety policy
- Definitions of abuse
- High-risk areas
- Liability issues
- Screening of staff and volunteers
- Reporting abuse
- Application and reference forms
- Response procedures
- Implementing a policy

Our Speaker

Beth A. Swagman is an attorney and certified social worker who specializes in the prevention of child abuse. She is the author of "Preventing Child Abuse: Creating a Safe Place" and has spoken on the topic of child abuse prevention to groups throughout the US and Canada.

Beth has a B.A. from Calvin College, a Masters of Social Work from the University of Michigan, and a JD from Thomas M. Cooley Law School. She has been the Director of the Safe Church Ministry for the Christian Reformed Church since 1994.

Funding for this workshop was made possible in part by grant number 901C0091 from the US Department of Health and Human Services Compassion Capital Fund through the South Coast Business Employment Corporation.
